Thanks to our wonderful teacher Angela Louw for an exceptional effort for Pentecost by encouraging her class to supply decor for the tent and gifts for our housebound parishioners who really need reassurance that they are in our prayers and thoughts. Father was so proud of you all. You are our next generation of Catholics so keep up the good work! God bless Father Bogdan.

BAPTISM: This week we welcome to our Catholic family:

BOKANG KHABANE MOEKETSI

Dear Lord, protect these children throughout each night and day, bless this them as a Child of God, and guide them in Your way. God's blessings on them on their Baptismal Day and always. Amen

TRINITY SUNDAY: According to the Catholic Encyclopaedia, initially this Sunday was known as a Dominica vacans, with no specific focus or theme. At that time there was no particular feast celebrating the Holy Trinity, but soon enough there arose a need for the Church to further define her beliefs in God. By the 8th and 9th century, however, the Church found a perfect place. The St. Andrew Daily Missal explains how Sunday was the most fitting day.

Sunday is consecrated throughout the year to the Holy Trinity because God the Father began the work of creation on the "first day," the Son made man rose from the dead on a Sunday morning, and the Holy Spirit came down on the Apostles on Pentecost Sunday. Celebrating Trinity Sunday after Pentecost also allows the Church to further reflect on the mystery of God after receiving the gift of the Holy Spirit. This helps us see the connection that if we truly want to understand the Trinity, we need to have the gift of the Holy Spirit. We can never fully understand who God is on our own and desperately need his guidance and inspiration. The Trinity is one of the most fundamental beliefs of the Catholic Church and so it is fitting that we dedicate a particular Sunday to that mystery.
